I WENT

Vegetable Compound.

回事

AMANDA'S TOOTHACHE

By M. QUAD Copyright, 1911, by Associated Lit-

There was Farmer Jones, and there was his wife, and there was the daughter, Amanda. The latter had come to be twenty-two years old. She wasn't an angel or a sylph. She didn't have a high school education, and she couldn't sing and play. She was just a good hearted, affectionate country girl who could make the nicest kind of buckwheat cakes in winter and turn out the finest soft soap in the Amanda had a beau. She might have had half a dozen, but she discouraged all young men except Philo Brown, and Philo had been courting her for two years and had never appronched the subject of matrimony. He was the hired man on the next farm, and he had a tidy sum saved up. and when he was with men he had no lack of gab. It was when in the presence of women, and more particularly in that of Amanda Jones, that words failed him. It was his bashfulness.

Some young woman would have brought that young man to time with in six months, but Amanda Jones was also a little bashful, and she was patient and kind. Farmer Jones had nothing to say, and all that Mrs. Jones had to relate was:

"Well, I hain't saying nothing except that an earthquake may come along some day and stir Philo up."

The earthquake came. It's name was Mary Skinner, sister to Mrs. Jones and a widow. She saw Philo and approved of him. She saw the situation and didn't approve of it at all. She watched and waited for a couple of weeks, and then one June morning she said:

"Amanda, come out into the orchard with me. I want to have a talk with

And under the white and pink apple blossoms they talked-that is, the aunt did most of the talking, and Amanda did all the blushing.

That evening when Philo "jest dropped in for a minute" he found Amanda suffering from the toothache. He wanted to swim across Lake Erie to her, but Lake Erie was 400 miles away. The Widow Skinner was right on the spot, however, and she took Philo outdoors and said:

"I'm mightly concerned about Amanda and that toothache."

"But it's only toothache," he replied. "Only! Only! Why, man, don't you know that she may have lockjaw or brain fever or get paralyzed all over?" "But what can I do?" he anxiously

"H'm! You come in tomorrow night and I'll tell you. I'm hoping she won't dle, but I dunno-I dunno. I saw a star fall last night, and that's a sure sign of death in the family."

"I-I hope not." was the trembling reply, and Philo went home to toss about on his bed all night without a moment's sleep. The next day seemed a hundred hours long to him, and as soon as he had finished the milking he set out on the run for the house of Jones. It was Mrs. Skinner who met him and said:

"That toothache is worse tonight, Philo. I'm afraid it's striking into Amanda's system."

"You don't tell me!" he gasped. "There's only one thing to be doneshe must go to the dentist over at Charlotte tomorrow. She must be driven over in a buggy. She must be driven by somebody who is sympathetic. Her father hain't sympathetic, her mother is too nearsighted to drive. and I feel one of my old fashioned bendaches coming on. Philo, you may have to go."

And Philo didn't go to bed at all that night. He just roamed around the farm and prayed for daylight to come. He was at the Jones farm as soon as he had finished breakfast, and the Widow Skinner was at the door to meet him and say:

"Go home and dress up and come back, and by that time the horse and buggy will be ready. You have got to drive Amanda over to Charlotte." Philo was back in half an hour. Amanda and the rig were ready.

Amanda had her good clothes on and a rag over her jaw. "Look here, Philo," said the widow as he was ready to get into the buggy. "you must let Amanda rest her head on your shoulder, and you must drive with one hand and keep an arm around her. Talk to her and keep her from thinking of the pain. Her life is In your hands."

Philo was shaking like a leaf, but he rose to the occasion. To his amazement, the more he talked the higher

Enjoyment

Hill's Halr and Whisher Dye, black or brown, 50s.

tonight may mean suffering tomorrow, but not if your stomach, liver, and bowels are helped to do their natural work by

BEECHAMS

THIN BLOOD AND RHEUMATISM

Whatever Builds up the Blood During an Attack Will Cure the Disease.

This Ohio Woman Tried the Tonic Treatment After Being Crippled by Rheumatism and Was Cured.

There is a great deal still to be learned about the cause of rheumatism but one fact now stands out prominently—the rapid thinning of the blood from the beginning of the attack. This may be one of the causes of the disease or one of its effects but it is known that anything which will build up the blood during an attack of rheumatism will cure the trouble. Such a remedy either attacks the cause of the rheumatism or counteracts its harmful effects and enables the system to throw it off. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills owe their curative effect to this action.

This treatment for rheumatism is well illustrated in the case of Mrs. E. C. Alspach, whose address is R. F. D. No.

Vanatta, Ohio. She says: 'I suffered for nine months from rheumatism in my right hand and arm and think it was partly caused by an injury. My hand was so crippled that I could not use it at all. I had a dull heavy pain in my right arm all the time and was in great misery. When I got up in the morning my arm would be numb and the pain would be so great that I would have to cry. There were sharp, shooting pains through my I became very nervous and could scarcely dress myself.

'I did not see that the doctor's treatment was helping me and quit taking it. Through a friend I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I noticed in a few days that I was being benefited. I took the pills until I recovered. the use of my hand and the rheumatism has never bothered me since.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured anemia, chlorosis, sciatica, nervous-ness, after-affects of the grip and fevers, and neuralgia, owing to their blood-building property. Send today for our free booklet, "Diseases of the Blood."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

he arose. He had hardly got through with the weather, the crops and Farmshow her how he sympathized with er Scott losing a cow when all of a sudden he found himself saying:

"Mandy. I'm going to drive straight to the preacher's first!" Amanda pressed his arm.

"Yes, durn my buttons if I don't. head of that dentist if he hurts you." At the preacher's the rag came off. At the dentist's a small cavity was found in a tooth and filled. At the

at the gate and exclaimed: that something has went and gone and Hyde's request until Wednesday. happened!"

TOLD IN FEW WORDS.

Shortest Robber Story In History, as

Narrated by Voltaire. In his study of "Seven Great Statesmen" Andrew D. White describes the uela Gomez, daughter of the president, work done in the eighteenth century to Col. Julio Morales Cuello, commandby the French minister Turgot against ing the fleet, was the greatest social the vicious system then prevailing of event since the republic "farming out" the taxes. A great combination of contractors resulted. who grew enormously rich at the people's expense, not, however, without able criticism.

This syndicate assumed the character of what in America of these days United States. would be called a "combine," and at the head of it were the farmers general, wealthy, powerful and, as a rule, merciless. Their power pervaded the entire nation, from the king's apartments at Versailles to the cottages of the lowliest village.

To those men and their methods Voltaire had made a reference which ran through France and indeed through

A party of Parislans were amusing each other by telling robber stories. listening quietly, said:

"I can tell a robber story better than any of yours." The whole room immediately became silent and listened to the greatest personage in the French literature of the eighteenth century. Voltaire after clearing his throat began as follows: "Once on a time there was a farmer general."

Then he was silent. Presently all began to cry out: "Why do you stop? Go on. Tell us the story.' "I have told the story," said Voltaire. "Do you not see that my statement implies the greatest robber story in history?"

Superfluous Verbiage.

It was Sunday evening and likewise his first call. She was entertaining him at the piano, and he was not fond of music. Of course she couldn't be expected to know that, poor girl! She was not particularly accomplished, but she didn't know what else to do, and he hadn't suggested anything. So she and told him that if such an edifice played on and on, occasionally skipping a few bars that she didn't remember and trusting to luck. Finally Conway's Autobiography. from sheer weariness and to make conversation she turned to him and

"Papa thinks it is wicked for me to play the plane on Sunday."

"Papa is certainly right," be replied wearily. "But why does he-er-specify Sunday?" It is perhaps needless to record that It is perhaps needless to rectant lift-

Cause and Effect. "There are many delightful dishes to be made from left over food." "That's nice," responded the young bride. "There's a great deal of food left over since I began doing the cooking."-Washington Herald.

TAFT UPHOLDS WHAT THE JEWS

Army Colonel Reprimanded For Discrimination

RULED AGAINST HEBREW'S

Promotion Examination-President Was Greatly Exercised by Occurrence -Bloom a Private, Fighting Way Up from the Ranks.

Washington, June 6 .- Colonel Joseph Garrard, U. S. A., commanding the cavalry post at Fort Myer, Va., yesterday was reprimanded by the secretary of war, under orders from President Taft, for reporting adversely on take examinations for promotion to commissioned grade on the ground of Jewish parentage. The president said it was hard to deal with the matter with patience and without condemnatory words that had better not be writ- 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

something of a sensation not only in army circles, but throughout Washington. The young soldier involved in the controversy is Frank Bloom, a private in battery F, of the third field artillery, and is now on duty on the Mexican bor der. Several years ago Bloom was urged for appointment to West Point. Presi-Roosevelt, not being in a position at the time to make the appointment, suggested to Bloom that he enlist and like a true American fight his way up from the ranks." The young man took the advice, entered the army, where he is said to have made a good record and recently took his first examination for promotion. It is said that Bloom failed u this examination, but in view of the prejudice brought about by Colonel Garrard's indorsement, Bloom will be ordered up for final examination again

HYDE DEMANDS SPEEDY TRIAL. Former City Chamberlain, However,

Must Await His Turn. New York, June 6 .- This was the last day the statute allowed Charles H. Hyde Then as your busband I can punch the to plead to the indictment for bribery, and the former city chamberlain appeared in the criminal branch of the supreme court and demanded a speedy trial. District Attorney Whitman told the court that Joseph Reichmann, for-Jones farmhouse, when the newlyweds mer president of the Carnegie Trust returned, the Widow Skinner met them company, and William J. Cummins, on of its directors, must be tried before "For the land's sake, but here's Hyde's case was taken up, and the Amanda looking as chipper as a new witnesses in all three trials would be tin pan, and Philo with a grin on him the same. Reichmann's case has been like a summer squash, and I'll just bet set for next Monday and Cummius' fol-

WEDS CUBAN SAILOR.

Event Marked Height of Social Splendor Since Republic Was Formed. Havana, June 6. - The marriage at the palace on Saturday night of

Among the thousaids of dollars' worth of valuable gifts the bride received was a necklace of diamonds and pearls mounted with silver from President

The honeymoon will be spent in the DOG ATTACKED GIRL.

Prize Winning Terrier Turns on Daughter of Its Master.

Chicago, June 6 .- Miss Elmira, the 17-year-old daughter of W. L. Park, vice-president and general manager of the Illinois Central railroad, attacked Sunday by a $3,000 prize winning Boston terrier belonging to her father, which she was taking for a Miss Park, whose clothing was torn to shreds by the animal, was saved Presently Voltaire, who had been from serious injury by John A. Powers, jr., who lives next door to the Parks house. He was severely bitten before he subdued the dog.

England's Uncrowned King.

Of the long line of kings which have ruled England since the days of William the Conqueror, nearly 900 years ago, there has been only one uncrowned king. King Edward V., the boy king, who met an untoward fate in the Tower of London in 1483, is the only monarch who reigned without receiving the church's blessing or the formal homage of his subjects. Some people include Lady Jane Grey among England's monarchs. If this doubtful claim is allowed England's only uncrowned queen ranks with Edward V. and deprives him of one distinction .-London Tit-Bits.

A Triumph of Imagination. Tallandier told me that a great archbishop of his acquaintance in Paris had set himself to make an exact design of the imaginary abbey of Theleme, minutely described by Rabelais, were to be erected it would be the most perfect building every known .-

A Skin of Beauty is a Joy Forever.

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's

Natick, Mass. - "I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried ydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such nervous condition could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep icians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, application of a soldier for the right to and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."-Mrs. NATHAN B. GREATON,

The Change of Life is the most criti-The president's action has created cal period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confiden-tial letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

BASEBALL STRATEGY.

Bench Orders at Times Queers the Batter With the Fans.

One of the charms of the game is its unexpectedness, the fact that you never can tell what's going to happen untill it is history.

Do you know what "inside ball" really is? Most "fans" think they do, but few really do know. In fact, it is a very interesting sidelight, both on the game and on the American character, to realize that nine out of ten people who see a ball game see only the flesh of it, never realize the skeleton on which it is built, never see the heart beating nor watch its lifeblood flow. You go to a game and shout vourself hoarse. "Hit it out, you, you bonehead!" What yer standing there for? Think this a pink rea? They're all perfectly good-hit 'em!" And the player at the plate, hearing, longs to obey-for all players love to hit-yet holds him-

"Make him give you three balls. Then hit!" are his orders from the bench from the baseball general ordering the game. A man is on third. There is but one out. Hits have been few and far between, but a long fly will score the man. How get a long fly? By meeting one which "cuts the heart of the plate" square and fair. How get the pitcher to serve such a ball? By "working" bim until three balls have been called, when the fourth ball must come over the plate or the batter be given a pass; hence the orders. If they go wrong, if the pitcher succeeds in getting three strikes across before three balls, the batter strikes out, and a groan goes up from the crowd. But the batter knows, and the pitcher knows, and the team knows, and the prayers on the bench know that the man at the plate struck out because he was obeying orders,-World Today.

What Is a Bath?

What is a bath? Is it the simple bath of hot or cold water and soap. or the Turkish bath of hot air or the Russian one of steam, or the mud bath of Saint-Amand-les-Eaux, or the compressed air bath of Reichenhall, or the baths of wine favored by famous beauties, or the sun bath of modern hygienists, or the Laplander's plunge into the hot blubber of a just killed whale, or the bath of asses' milk, to provide which for his consort an Earl of Portman bought cheap the Portman estate north of Oxford street as a farm to keep a herd of asses? Now, which of these is a bath?-London

Peace at Last. Mr. Hoon-Scrappington and his wife have parted. Mrs. Hoon-Good graclous! What is the trouble? Mr. Hoon -There isn't any trouble now. They have parted.-Smart Set.

No Doubt In His Mind. Young Bachelor-1 often wonder if I am making enough money to get married on. Old Benedict-Well, I don't know how much you're making, but you ain't!-Puck.

Mothers Can Prevent Sickness

in their children by just a little precaution and watchfulness. There are many ills of childhe -the majority of them 'trivial-which can readily be corrected and cured by a timely dose of

TO REJECT ALASKACLAIMS?

Expectation in Cunningham

A DECISION THIS WEEK

May Uphold Ex-Forester Pinchot's Stand -The Customs Court Ruling on Animals Causes Protest.

Washington, June 6 .- A decision on nights. I was finally the Cunningham claims, covering coal lands in Alaska, the very claims that provoked the bitter clash between R. A. Ballinger and Gifford Pinchot, will be made public this week. Although interior department officials declined to discuss the matter, there is good reason, according to the New York Sun correspondent here, to believe that the claims will be rejected. At least Land Commissioner Dennett will report adversely on them and if an appeal is taken, the Dennett decision will undoubtedly be approved by Walter L. Fisher, the secretary of the interior,

COHALAN SUCCEEDS O'GORMAN.

Becomes Supreme Court Justice-Latter Elected United States Senator. New York, June 6.—Daniel F. Cohalan took his seat yesterday as a supreme court justice in the place of James A. O'Gorman, who was elected United States senator.

BLED THEM WHITE.

The Treatment In Fever Cases Till Quinine Wrought a Change.

In 1832, when the French were conducting a campaign of conquest in Algeria, the mortality among the troops and colonists there was frightful. France was being continually called upon for fresh levies of men and youths to supply this terrible loss, chiefly from fever incidental to the At that time the practice of bleeding still prevailed. "Bleed them till they are white" was the injunction which Broussnis, the head physician of the French, gave to his followers when the condition of the soldiers was reported to him. At Bone in one year out of an effective force of 5,500 men, 1,100 died of illness in the hospital. Most of them had been "bled to the white." At this time the effects of sulphate sicians ventured to employ it. One, Maillot, had interested himself in the new remedy and, going to Bone in the medical service of the government, he resolved to see if it would not reduce the frightful mortality, which was one to every three and one-balf men who entered the hospital. At first he employed the quinine merely as an adjunct to he bleeding. He soon found that bleeding was killing the men and that quinine was saving them. Little by little be left off bleeding, to the great scandal of the medical profession. Exactly in proportion as the bleeding ceased the deaths in the bospital decreased. In two years the deaths fell ter." off from one in three and a half of all who entered the hospital to one in twenty and finally to one in forty-six. Maillot, quite naturally enough, be came an earnest opponent of bleeding.

but he was so actively resisted and so ceaselessly vilified that he became embittered toward his colleagues. Nearly thirty years passed before Maillot saw the complete triumph of his ideas. Doctors continued to bleed their patients heartily for all manner of fils. But in 1860 Maillot was made commander of the Legion of Honor and chief of the medical staff of the French army, and his influence, with others, in bringing about a virtual revolution in the practice of medicine was fully recognized.-Harper's Weekly.

Missed a Train That Was a Day Late.

When the Switz City division of the Illinois Central was built it was known. as the Indiana and Illinois Southera. It was a narrow gauge road; the roadbed was bad, the engines and care were built on a miniature scale, and, while there was a schedule, had a train been on time the fact would have been regarded as a miracle. The road was known as the "Try-Weakly." On one occasion Josiah McConnell desired to go to Switz City from Sullivan, but missed the train by a minute or two. The clock at the station showed that the train had left Sullivan five minutes ahead of time, and McConnell sued the railroad company for $5,006 damages. On a trial of the case it was proved beyond a doubt that the train McConnell missed should have gone the day before and was really twentythree hours and fifty-five minutes late.

en in France to warrants sealed with the king's seal ordering persons to be thrown into prison or exiled. The first came into use about 1670 and shortly became one of the popular ters rors of France. It is said that no less Lettres de Cachet.

Lettres de cachet was the name giv-than 9,000 lettres de cachet were is sued during the reign of Louis XIV. and 80,000 during the reign of Louis XV. In many cases these terrible documents were secretly sold and used as a source of illicit revenue. They were frequently signed in blank, and the holder of one of these royal terrors could write in the name of any person against whom he happened to have a grudge. The national assembly abolished this iniquitous privilege of issuing lettres de cachet on Nov. 1, Makes snow-white suds.

Lenox Soap is yellow, but it makes a snow-white suds—a suds that sparkles and glitters and makes clothes and dishes and woodwork and pots and pans as clean as a whistle and as bright as sunshine.

Try it!

A GAME OF BLUFF

By MARGARET BARR

"Well, sweetheart, what's the trou-

Copyright, 1910, by American Press

"George has lost $1,500 to that horrid Shapiro. I have just drawn a check for it.'

Worseley thought, Mrs. Helen Dana, a widow, who doted on her son, was his fiancee. He knew what sums she had given George to pay gambling debts already. Finally Worseley said

"Give me the check. I will give it to Shapiro." "What good will that do?"

"I don't know that it will do any She wrote the check and made it payable to Shapiro, as Worseley sug-He put it in his pocket and

This scene took place in New Orleans near the middle of the last century. The best people of that gay city gambled, fought duels and did a great many other things that are now obsolete, though most of them have survived in some other form, except dueling, which is a thing of the past even in the Crescent City. Worseley went to the -- club, where he expected to find Shapiro, and he ed to him. But Shapiro said he might of quinine were known, but few phy- did. Shapiro was not playing at the spare himself the trouble, since he time, and Worseley beckoned him to a would leave New Orleans that day room where no one else was present and such a statement would be of no and handed him Mrs. Dana's > saying: "A man who will win money from s boy and accept the winnings from that boy's mother deserves to be expelled from respectable society."

Shapiro's brows contracted. He stood with the check in his fingers rather than yield?" scowiling at Worseley.

"It seems to me, Mr. Worseley, that you have deprived me of the power of declining this check by your words, Therefore I shall hold it while I am considering what to do in the mat-

"You can't present it till bank hours tomorrow morning; meanwhile I shall consider for you." "Indeed?"

"Yes. Go into the coffee room and order a glass of wine. I will be with you directly."

"And suppose I decline to do your bidding?" "It will do no good. My purpose is to make a pretext for what is to take place between us in order that neither young Dana nor his mother will be brought into the affair." Shapiro, seeing that he was in for a meeting with Worseley, yielded to the plan of concealing the true cause went into the coffee room, took a seat talls. at a table and called for wine. In a few minutes Worseley passed him, pretended to stumble on Shapiro's foot and, seizing the glass on the table, threw the contents in Shapiro's face, saying, "I'll teach you to trip me. Then Worseley walked away.

There was nothing for Shapiro to do but send a challenge at once, the affair having been witnessed by half a dozen men. Worseley accepted, but it was too much of an effort. chose Derringer pistols, appointed the time at sunrise the next morning, in a nights! Heavens, madame, that is wood where the duels were usually Worseley was not a professional cried. duelist, but was known to be a man of wonderful nerve. Shapiro, who made his living at cards, had recently sing for you?" appeared in New Orleans with letters sufficient to secure his admission sical America, among gentlemen and had not yet been detected for what he was. When the two parties were on the ground Shapiro's second asked Worseley's the distance and received the reply, "Over a handkerchief." This he reported to Shapiro, who saw that it meant death to both principals, After a conference between Shapiro and his second the latter asked if there was any way by which the matter could be settled in honor to both

"Tell him," said Worseley, "that if he will return the check I gave him this evening with a receipt in full for the debt for which it was intended I will apologize to him for what I have done on the ground that his tripping me was unintentional."

Shapiro was disposed to regard the whole affair a bluff by which to regain possession of Mrs. Dana's check and that by standing firm Worseley would withdraw at the last moment. But his second warned him that Worseley did not bear any such reputation. Nevertheless Shapiro, who was anxious to retain the money, concluded to bluff, and not fill the two seconds, each holding a corner of a handkerchief, instructed their principals to advance with weapons extended till the muzzles were on a line with what separated them did he throw up the sponge. Then he accepted Worseley's terms.

The check and a receipt for the amount of its face passed, and Worseley intimated that he would state at the club that he had been mistaken in Shapiro's intention and had apologiz-

Worseley took the check and the receipt to Mrs. Dana. "How did you get it?" she asked. Worseley told her, and she, paling,

"Suppose he had preferred to die "I knew he would prefer nothing of the kind."

Precise.

"I jump up and down when I'm happy," declared the small girl from New York, and, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal, the Boston child looked at her gravely and replied: "I can imagine your jumping up, but I think the law of gravitation must be responsible for the alternating descent."

PATTI STOOD PAT.

The Diva Wouldn't Cut Her Rates, but Suggested an Alternative.

Patti once was waited upon at her hotel by a famous minstrel magnate, Colonel J. H. Haverly, whose ambition had been aroused to secure the diva for a concert tour under his direction. Madame received him most graciously. and the two began discussing the de-

"May I ask your terms for fifty nights, Mme. Pattl?" Haverly asked. "For concert or for opera?" the diva asked. "For concert." Haverly replied. "Four thousand a night, or $200,000 for fifty nights, one-half to be deposited on signing the contract," was Patti's deliberate response. Haverly tried to appear composed. "Two hundred thousand for fifty just four times as much as we pay our president of the United States!" he "Well" the divine one answered. "why don't you get the president to

Haverly fled .- Robert Grau in Mu-

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross. Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indellcate questionings and offensively repug-

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free.

All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary

Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. DR. PIERCE'S GREAT PAMILY DOCTOR BOOK, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition-1000 pages, answers is Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

nant examinations.